INDUSTRY LEADER SPEAKS AT TIGERPAW CONFERENCE

Warren Heuman, Vice President of CTS Technology Solutions, Inc., Speaks on Managed Services at National Convention

SOUTHERN ILLINOIS AND ST. LOUIS – October 28, 2010 – An industry leader in unified communications, CTS Technology Solutions, Inc., announced today that Vice President, Warren Heuman, presented on managed services at the 2010 TigerPaw Users Conference. The highly anticipated event took place on October 7th - 8th, 2010 in Dallas, Texas. The conference showcased several of the most innovative thinkers in unified communications, as they shared their experiences, insights and forecasts on the future of managed services.

“Transitioning into managed services was definitely a challenge, but in the end we found that hard work always pays off. It was an honor to present to such a prestigious group on the deployment of managed services. It was gratifying to be recognized as one of the top companies in our industry, but what we’re really excited about is the fact that we now have a new way to deliver value to our customers,” commented «FName».

CTS has remained ahead of the curve through their association with Technology Assurance Group, an international organization of leading Data/Voice VARs and Managed Service Providers (MSPs). “Over the years CTS has proven themselves to be a quick implementer when new business practices are focused on the betterment of their customers,” commented Dale Stein, Partner at Technology Assurance Group. “Managed Services was simply the next avenue for which CTS name could deliver value to their customers, and as a result, everybody wins.”

Heuman’s participation at the 2010 TigerPaw Users Conference reflects the company’s commitment to remain on the cutting edge of technology, which allows them to continually increase their customers’ profitability and provide them with a competitive advantage.
